

Wilson Island, Great Barrier Reef, Queensland – Wish You Were(n't) Here, Issue 48, 2012 (Image by Nigel Herbert).

Ocean Farm, Gerringong, NSW – Wish You Were Here, Issue 40, 2011

“Swimsuits are optional as you're surrounded by 350 acres of rolling farmland and rainforest, and there are no neighbours to startle except for the occasional passing cow – or one of the three resident emus.”

Shark Bay, Ningaloo, WA – Oh Ningaloo, Issue 55, 2014

“The landscape between Western Australia's Shark Bay World Heritage-listed area and the northern tip of Ningaloo Reef is as dramatic as the frontier is remote. Alien-like termite hills dot the horizon in the north and turquoise waters brim with lively fringing reefs.”

Capella Lodge, Lord Howe Island, NSW – Wish You Were Here, Issue 37, 2011 (Image by Peter Aitchison)

“Lord Howe Island's lush green grass, tropical plantings, cool blue sea and picturesque Mount Lidgbird and Mount Gower, cry out to be either climbed or photographed, depending on your energy levels.”

10

Australia is a breathtaking place – the last 10 years' of Australian Traveller magazines are testament to that. We trawled through 62 issues to select our favourite photographs that showcase our country, from the sparkling beaches to the rugged outback to the characters we've met along the way. Enjoy!
